Recovery During Uncertain Times?

MAKE THE SMART CHOICE

CHANCES ARE, YOU'VE GOT A LOT OF QUESTIONS ABOUT CHOOSING THE RIGHT REHABILITATION SETTING RIGHT NOW.

And you should. Choosing the right place to recover can be critical to making a strong recovery after surgery, injury or illness, especially in today's uncertain times.

It's natural to want to get back home from the hospita as quickly as possible. But often, making a complete recovery requires more focus, tools, and specialized attention from a professional team of therapy and healthcare experts. Even in these uncertain times, an individualized recovery at a LifeWorks Rehab center is still the smarter choice.

At LifeWorks Rehab, we're committed to patient care, now and always. We provide patients with exceptional recovery experiences you will not find at home or anywhere else.

TEN IMPORTANT QUESTIONS TO ASK WHEN CONSIDERING WHERE TO RECOVER

- 1 How much therapy and nursing care do I need to achieve my recovery goals?
- 2 How much therapy will I actually be getting? Can I get therapy 7-days-a-week?
- 3 Will I have access to the best therapy equipment and recovery tools?
- 4 What will my treatment be like? Will it be custom designed for me?
- 5 Will I allow a home health representative in my home?
- 6 What is my risk for a hospital readmission based on the severity of my illness or injury?
- 7 Can I measure my progress?
- 8 Can my family devote 24-hours-a-day to my recovery? Do they have the necessary skills to do so safely and effectively?
- Will I be able to bathe, dress, and cook for myself?
- What measures will be taken to protect me against the spread of illness?
